I'm creeping right inside your mind tonight
Makes your wildest dream arise
To make you see what you can't see
While you're awake but in your dreams

Out of a world, we call the twilight zone, he comes
Out of a world, where all your reason is a lie

Dream healer, he makes you see what you can't see
Dream healer, reflecting your identity

Shout at the morning when the red sunrise awakes
The call of reality is all that you hear
Gaze at the stars when the night comes down again
Then you begin to see through all your fears

Out of a world, where you can see what is inside
Out of a world, where all your reason is a lie

Dream healer, he makes you see what you can't see
Dream healer, reflecting your identity

I see red, I see blue
I see green, I see yellow, yellow lights
One day black, another day white
He's one day quiet
Another day he calls my name

He's comin' out
He's comin' out
He's comin' out

Listen to dreams, they always tell you the truth
Listen to dreams and it's your heart that's speakin' to you
Listen, listen, listen to the dream healer
