I look out to the stormy sea
I wish upon a star Pulsating light to comfort me
But oh, it seems so far

So as I stand I realize
I wish that I'll be there About to give up all my life and vanish in thin air

But I know, as I dream all the world has passed me by and I know I should do better for you and me tonight

I'm coming home, Yeah!

There were stars in the eyes at the masquerade and the King was lost in the grand illusion Well, the the day has come , they've lost the way and the Joker laughs at the mass confusion They stand and stare

Now listen all you people
This is what I say Raise my voice in anger I'm trying to get away
..... from all

Now listen, what you're doing is just not good at all the silly games you're playing are raising up the wall

Time goes by, the world we love is gone.....forever

Are we ever gonna change our way
Will we ever stop the fury
Is it life or will we just decay
Will we lose or stand in glory

Insurrection-God election
Heavy changes make my day Storm the spire, Hearts on fire Storm is coming on its way
