Fast decline of human values
Fast decay of virtues and morality
We're falling to pieces

Trust and faith are smashed to splinters
Confidence abused and torn away
But we will remember

We know who's the one to blame
We hold out 'til the end of the game

And then we'll rise in victory
We'll return stronger than ever
We shall rise from agony
Stand our ground stronger than ever

Self-destructive human nature
We sell out the future of our kind
We're going from heaven to hell

We walk through storm and fire
Now we have to stand the test of time
But we won't surrender

We face the demons of our crime
A chance for us, a chance for all mankind

And then we'll rise in victory
We'll return stronger than ever
We shall rise from agony
Stand our ground stronger than ever before

Hate creates destruction
Greed wants to possess
Virus, mass infection
Force wants to oppress

Who's the core of evil?
Who directs our fall?
Who creates the chaos?
Who's responsible?

And then we'll rise in victory
We'll return stronger than ever
We shall rise from agony
Stand our ground stronger than ever

Stand our ground stronger than ever
Stand our ground stronger than ever
Stand our ground stronger than ever
