I like you, but not your heartache boots, it amazes me
that I could even care.

I saw you, dancing by bright light, doing handstands
on the surface of the sun.

It's groovy there's a movie, inside my head, this is just a love song, a very sick love song, it's just a love song.

I like you, then the lipsticks curl, run away with me and shoot the coward moon.

I saw you, dancing in bright light, so wired and alive, I thought that I could die. I won't die, I will never die.

It's groovy there's a movie, inside my head, this is just a love song, a very sick love song, it's just a love song.
