

Garbage "Afterglow"

Centre on the wide horizon
Focus on the galaxy
Sweep away your expectations and recognise your enemies

I hear you talking to yourself
You're stripping off for someone else
You've got to learn to love yourself
It's all that counts, there's little else

You're always looking for affections and all its possibilities

Your senses searching for attention in urgent need of gravity

I think you think you're someone else
You've got to learn to save yourself
Before you find there's nothing left
But bitterness
And hollowness
And afterglow
And afterglow.
