Well, I set myself up big time this time
With the notion that you try your best then
Everyone wins

But nothin' ever goes that smoothly
And it won't end like a movie
Where the good guy always wins

Until you figure out
A way that you can live without
Stories with happy ends

Everyone, I know is tryin' to get by
Fightin' all the half-true lies
Nobody can win

They fill you up with expectations
Innovations and predictions that can't Possibly fly

Cinderella's waiting tables
And the princess never did wake up
That's how it begins

Until you figure out
A way that you can live without
Stories with happy ends

Well, everyone I know is tryin' to get by
Fightin' all the half true lies
Nobody can win

Nobody can win
Nobody can win
