Maybe I've been too superstitious
Afraid of being too naive
Never been up for taking chances
But there's another side of me

Love is a winding road
We'll make it through together
And we'll never give up

I've made up my mind this time
I'm gonna break through all these chains
I'm willing to risk it all, to take a fall
'Cause nothing's gonna stop us now

I'll be there through good and bad
Through every step along the way
And no one can break the spell, oh, I can tell
That nothing's gonna stop us now, stop us now

People say I've been acting crazy
Every time and now and then
But they don't understand this feeling
You've opened up so deep inside

Love is a winding road
And we'll make it last forever
And we'll never give up

I've made up my mind this time
I'm gonna break through all these chains
I'm willing to risk it all, to take a fall
'Cause nothing's gonna stop us now

I'll be there through good and bad
Through every step along the way
And no one can break the spell, oh, I can tell
That nothing's gonna stop us now, stop us now

Nothing's gonna stop us now, stop us now

Maybe I've been too superstitious
Love is a winding road

But I'll find my ways through the rain

I've made up my mind this time
I'm gonna break through all these chains
I'm willing to risk it all, to take a fall
'Cause nothing's gonna stop us now

I'll be there through good and bad
Through every step along the way
And no one can break the spell, oh, I can tell
That nothing's gonna stop us now, stop us now
Nothing's gonna stop us now, stop us now
