Just a boy age of 8, barely out the gate
When I took my very first swing
And my very best pal, he had stolen my gal
Under the slide in hopes that I would not see
But as I crossed on the sand, a yellow weed in my hand
For the girl who said she'd always be mine
Well I saw what I might, clenched my fist good n' tight
Gave him a name and a shining black eye

Well I'm not proud of what I do
But just for 2 lousy seconds
I wish you would take and think of someone new

Now you've haunted my dreams with your wicked schemes
Out to take what matters the most
With your lying eyes it's such a clever disguise
But to me your just a ghost

And I'm not proud of what I do
But just for 2 lousy seconds
I wish you would take and think of someone new
Someone other than you
And I'm fragile
Guys like me don't find girls like her
But I'm agile
And if you just awalk away, I promise you wont get hurt

And I'm fragile
Yes, my feelings are easily hurt
But I'm agile
And if you just walk away, would you do as I say
Take that pretty boy grin and please wipe it away
I could help if you like, no, I really don't mind
