If I'm not a victim, then me be
If I'm gonna lie, then just let me leave
I never wanted, I never asked for your sympathy
If I have a choice, then let me choose
If I am a loser, let me lose
Addict chameleon, just gonna adopt your point of view

If I'm just some servant here, my son
Then you know I don't wanna hurt no one

I don't need you, there's no doubt
I don't want you, so just get out
You are a vocal misinterpretor of cues
If you wanna help me, then I don't care

I'm closing my eyes now, and you're not there
You take it for granted you're always gonna have a lot to lose

If I'm just some servant here, my son
Then you know I don't wanna hurt no one
It's just that you've given me no choice
I have to obey my master's voice

I am lonier then you can see
I am ignoring what it does to me
I am finally waking up to see
That I am content to let it prey on me
