You said everything is changing
I never wanted to go home
The sky above me could've caved in
I don't think I would've known

And I tried to fight
But the tremors of delight
Just got bigger

I found stars for you
Among the airstreams and the satellites
I'll be falling soon
I hope that you'll be falling too

I've never been one to get lazy
Since I learned how to stay alive
It's the danger that will save me
I'm reaching out for you tonight

As I'm walking in
Oh, my sweetest friend
How can you be sweeter?

I found stars for you
Among the airstreams and the satellites
I'll be falling soon
I hope you'll be falling too

The city is a stranger
I can hardly sit still
Tell me it gets easier
To own up to the way I feel

I found stars for you
Among the airstreams and the satellites
I'll be falling soon
I hope that you'll be falling too

I'm flying higher now
I hope I don't find out
How long I've been dreaming
Tell me, I'm not dreaming
