Silent night, all is quiet
Dark is the light that used to shine
Silent night, worn out from fighting
Hoarse to a whisper, demobilized

Mercy, is there no relief
From the devil's fire that waits for me

Silent night, cowardly scoundrel
King of the shadows, it's time to grow up
Silent night, wore out your welcome
I think I've suffered long enough

Mercy, is there no relief
From the devil's fire that waits for me

I beg your hand to crush the voice inside breaking me up
Deliver me
I know I'm weak but I am willing

Silent night, terrible quiet
Sentenced to death by invisible hands
Silent night, your hateful tyrant
Your reign is over where it began

Mercy, is there no relief
From the devil's fire that waits for me
