

Garrison Starr "Underneath The Wheel"

Visit "Underneath The Wheel" on MotoLyrics.com

Oh my God, my heart's as heavy as a stone
And where's the spark that always lights the road back home

I feel like I'm slipping away, falling down, down, down
And I feel like you're getting away and I'm underneath
the wheel

High and low, I've looked in every crack and corner
To redefine all that is right but out of order

I feel like I'm slipping away falling down, down, down
And I feel like you're getting away and I'm underneath
the wheel

I used to stand so tall oblivious to being small Or anything that might clip my wings

I'm coming to accept the moment I've been given The harder I try, the more trouble I get myself in

So I feel, like I'm slipping away

Visit Garrison Starr page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.