I can't stop your heart from breaking
Can't make right mistakes we've made
Can't dry your crying eyes
For my little angel's sake
I can't make the sun keep smiling
Or blow away the clouds
There's some things in this old world, girl
I can't do nothing about

But I can love you
Like I've always done
And when the hard times come a knocking
Honey, you won't ever see me running
I won't leave you
When you need a friend
Can't make the bad days that much better
Baby, than they've ever been
But I can love you

Can't hold back the ocean waves
Or stop a sinking ship
Can't make a mountain move
Or tell you how to live

But I can love you
Like I've always done
And when the hard times come a knocking
Honey, you won't ever see me running
I won't leave you
When you need a friend
Can't make the bad days that much better
Baby, than they've ever been
But I can love you

I won't leave you
When you need a friend
Can't make the bad days that much better
Baby, than they've ever been
But I can love you
But I can love you
