I don't know why I love women
That love to do me wrong
I don't know why my life sounds like
A heart-broke country song

I ain't really happy
Unless the sky starts driving rain
Maybe I just get off on the pain

My whole life I been picking fights
There ain't no way to win
There's a hundred scars and shoulda-run-aways
Now tattooed on my skin

There's a side of me that just won't stop
Dancin' in the flame
Maybe I just get off on the pain

'Cause I love the long shots
And the left out lost causes
Hanging out in the back of the pack
With the dark horses

I ride the wrong road just as fast as I can
God knows there's no one else to blame
Sometimes I think I get off on the pain

I wake up every morning
A thousand miles from home
Praying for forgiveness
For this aching in my bones

It would be so easy
To find a better way
Oh, but I know I'll never change

'Cause I love the long shots
And the left out lost causes
Hanging out in the back of the pack
With the dark horses

I ride the wrong road just as fast as I can

God knows there's no one else to blame
Sometimes I think I get off on the pain

'Cause I love the long shots
And the left out lost causes
Hanging out in the back of the pack
With the dark horses

I ride the wrong road just as fast as I can
God knows there's no one else to blame
I know I'm the only one to blame
Sometimes I think I get off on the pain
Get off on the pain
