Come inside guess tonight your love
Has finally come to an end
Settle down take a while you know
How long a heart takes to mend yes you do
And I know the way you're feeling now
Every problem shared it's a problem solved
In my eyes it's no easy fight
No one promised love was a peaceful ride

Baby, come and cry tears on my shoulder
Girl you can confide in me and forever more
There's no need to hide your tears
Lean on me I'll get you when you fall

Take your time stay awhile
The more you talk the more pain you move you move Dry your eyes realise that sooner or later you'll lose you lose
Only fools believe there's rules to love
When you lose the lesson is learned
With your heart not your eyes
It's the way our survived not it's hard
Now you'll look back and smile
Baby, come and cry tears on my shoulder
Girl, you can confide in me now and forever more

There's no need to hide your tears
Lean on me I'll get you when you fall

Don't be too hard on yourself
Take it slow when you're not looking for love
That's when healing start to grow
Yes, I'm sure that it won't be long
Baby, to want again
Love is knocking hard at your door (2x)

Tears on my shoulder
Gotta be here forever more
Baby come and cry tears on my shoulder
Girl you can confide in me now and forever more
Forever more
Finding me now cry your tears on my shoulder

Got to be here when you fall
Me and you, you and me, we'll be fighting this love eternally
Don't cry your tears on my shoulder, tears on my shoulder
We can catch you when it's fall
