By Andy Hill

It's gonna take time for us to trust again
I can see it in your eyes
All these walls you build around yourself
To keep the hurt away
Keep the tenderness inside
We've gotta find doors
Gotta find an open road to your heart
Come on, baby

CHORUS:

You've gotta be strong
Love is what you make it
I'm hanging on
Love's right here just take it
Whatever is wrong
It won't take long to make it right
We can make it right tonight
We gotta find words to heal these differences
Gotta find some peace of mind
There'll come a day you realize
That after all we're only human
No one's perfect all the time
You gotta hold on
Gotta hold on to your dreams with your heart
It's never too late, baby

(REPEAT CHORUS)

Twentytwenty vision
Looking back at our mistakes
But when it comes to now you can't see straight
Make this decision
Heaven's here for us take
Baby, heaven won't wait
(REPEAT CHORUS TWICE)
You know whatever is wrong
It won't take long to make it right
We can make it right tonight
