

Gary Hughes

"Heroes And Heroin"

Visit "Heroes And Heroin" on MotoLyrics.com

Never try to understand me;
Expectation makes me old.
Hide your pennies in the sand,
Somehow I am supposed to know.
The hardest thing to do
Is let it go.

And I know we've been affected,
Perfected
The power to charm.
Did we serve to entertain?
Did we find someone to blame?
What I said
And what I did
Were not the same.

Oh I am breathing,
(I am breathing)
Oh I am leaving in the morning.
Maybe you can think about it
When I'm gone.

Could we lie behind the fables,
Heroes and heroin?
The wait here is far too much
To be worth so little
But will she come and stay with me?

Oh I am breathing,
(I am breathing)
Oh I am leaving in the morning.
Maybe you can think about it
When I'm gone.

Did we serve to entertain?
Did we find someone to blame?
Was it something in your head?
Was it something in your name?
Give me something I can hold.
I can try my best to help you
If you never let me down.

Oh oh

Never try to understand her;
Heroes and heroin
Are very unforgiving.
Do the things that
You think you should
To let you know you're alive,
You are young,
You are beautiful.

Oh I am breathing,
(I am breathing)
Oh I am leaving in the morning.
Maybe you can think about it
When I'm gone.

Oh I am breathing,
(I am beathing)
Oh I am leaving in the morning.
Maybe you can think about it
When I go.

Visit Gary Hughes page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.