"My Familiar"

My familiar, glad to see you
Shiny new umbrella in the rain my sun
If I could lay this hammer down
Say goodbye and let that big jet airplane carry me
home
Let that big jet airplane carry me

My familiar comes
Chasing shadows in the morning light
And I would stay inside with you forever
If I could

My familiar, recognition
Is the sweetest consolation in the world I know
If I could lay this hammer down
Say goodbye and let that cold black water carry me
home
Let that cold black water carry me

If I could lay this hammer down
If I could lay this hammer down
If I could lay this hammer down
I'd carry me away

My familiar comes
Passing glances in the windows on the highway
My familiar, my son
Shine a light and raise your arms
'Cause daddy's coming home

My familiar comes and goes
