(Gary Moore)

I need you to show me the way.
"Can you help me?" is all I can say.
I need you to set me on straight.
Help me now before it's too late.

Come along, I'll give you your directions
how to try, but nothin' I see.
Or is it just a subtle reflection
of what I am or am destined to be.

I need you to set me on straight.
Help me now before it's too late.
I need you to show me the way.
"Can you help me?" is all I can say.

Come along, I'll give you your directions
how to try, but nothin' I see.
Or is it just a subtle reflection

of what I am or am destined to be.
Hoh!

I need you to show me the way.
"Can you help me?" is all I can say.
I need you to set me on straight.
Help me now before it's too late.

Come along, I'll give you your directions.
how to try, but nothin' I see.
Or is it just a subtle reflection
of what I am or am destined to be.
