(Gary Burr)

Your lonely, she's far away
And it's too late to call her tonight
If you'd only knew what she'd say
But your frightened so you go to bed
With such good excuses in your head.

Chorus:

How far is too far, how high is to high
How hard is so hard that you don't even try
How much is too much so that you'll never learn
It's worth it all where love is concerned.

Daybreak, you're at your door
Now you're staring and it's daring you to go
But that long drive seems like such a chore
Maybe it's safer if you stay right here
Watching all your chances disappear.

Chorus:

How far is too far, how high is to high
How hard is so hard that you don't even try
How much is too much so that you'll never learn
It's worth it all where love is concerned.

Waltz a high wire through a ragin' fire
I would never think twice I know
You'll find reasons to stay
Never reasons to go.

Chorus:

How far is too far, how high is to high
How hard is so hard that you don't even try
How much is too much so that you'll never learn
It's worth it all where love is concerned.

Oh yes, it's worth it all
Where love is concerned...
