God's footballer hears the voices of angels above the choir at Molyneaux God's footballer stands on the doorstep and brings the good news of the kingdom to come While the crowd sing Rock of Ages
The goals bring weekly wages Yet the glory of the sports pages is but the worship of false idols and tempts him not God's footballer turns on a sixpence and brings the Great Crowd to their feet in praise of him
God's footballer quotes from the Gospels while knocking on doors in the Black Country back streets
He scores goals on a Saturday
And saves souls on a Sunday
For the Lord says these are the Last Days Prepare thyself for the Judgement yet to come His career will be over soon
And the rituals of a Saturday afternoon Bid him a reluctant farewell For he knows beyond the sport lies the spiritual
