I can't tell you there's a reason we're all gathered here
tonight
And I've been waiting for this moment to arrive for all my life
But then it comes so overhyped...

Rock and roll and soul
Stinking up the charts
Running over all these songs have got too many parts Nothing's sacred, nothing's safe Watching over bach and mozart Rolling over in their graves

I'm not saying we can't waste another minute on this ride
We're only staying cause it's easy never more then this outside
Here we stand unsatisfied...

Rock and roll and soul
Stinking up the charts
Running over all these songs have got too many parts
When no one listens, no one cares Pissing from the giants shoulders Love the view though unaware

I can't tell you there's a reason we're all gathered here
tonight
And I've been waiting for this moment to arrive for all
my life
But then it comes so overhyped...
