be little
for now
your time will come before the earth rotates winter
capricorn
he said
i feel like this licorice and she sticks so well
oh well
i'm not in your stars
but it's still early
you lie because you're in the bed
be little
for now
your time will come before the flat earth december remember
she said
he's so hard to hear
so will i outgrow
well if he says so
you can't look at the sky without looking right through it
i'm not in your stars
