The silence of evening
I'm embraced by it's cold
On the bloodred path I walk
Into darkest eternity
From no time, place or time I came Across the friends of my dreams
Through the dreaming glade I've walked
Somewhere in forests of sleep
The silence of evening
I'm awake still I dream
I've walked down the shores of time
In the shadows of sin
In a time of tears it comes
To burn the fields of my dreams
I've seen the signs by the shores of time
The last of dawns are to come
I've seen the signs by the shores of time, burning damnation
Now I walk alone through the gates of sin, without repention
The silence of evening
Still I wait for the dawn
On my trail of tears I walk
In a time of tears it comes
To burn the fields of my dreams
I've seen the signs by the shores of time
The last of dawns is to come
