you said there's something on my mind
it seemed so strange but I don't know why your eyes were dark as deep blue sky so soon and cold you said good-bye I want to hold you by the hand just look around at this green land I think it's made for me and you and every word I say is truth but you always ask me why
people can not fly
right into the sky
people can not fly
right into the sky
I don't know why are you so sad maybe today I look feel mad oh darling please don't go away I want you for a while to stay
people can not fly
right into the sky
people can not fly
right into the sky
right into the sky
people can not fly
right into the sky
sky sky sky sky
right into the sky
