(Verse 1)

Every day tears are falling down cause I can't seem To figure out how my words would come about, and stay around.

(Pre Chorus)

Words can't describe how my heart feels inside
The heat of the moment, starts to arrive.

(Chorus)

If I had two minutes to tell you anything
I would, tell you that that I want you
Tell you that I need you, so oh.
If I had two minutes to tell you anything
I'd show you that you need me, show you that
You love me more then you will ever know.

(Verse 2)

Now and then you and me collide But I don't really have the time
To truly speak my mind

(Pre Chorus)

Words can't describe how my heart feels inside
The heat of heat of the moment, starts to arrive.

Chorus

(Bridge)

Evolving into what I am
I'm taking stories that have come to me
And giving them to you

Chorus
