I imagined a picture

You & me, we could last forever & ever

We're always like lovers

But the truth has been always stranger than the fiction

I remember the colours

Of the rainbow we watched together, how clear

Hoped that it'd shine forever

But like my dreams it faded & disappeared, oh will it reappear?

Let's sort this thru, it's only me & you

Stop running away are the words you always say

But our love has gone astray
And in this life or another

Are we meant for each other? I'm not so sure

But one thing is assured
I'm not running away

Not running away

But the games that we play & the lies that we say

Have only lead us astray

Did you hear what i said?

I'm not running away...
