Because it was good like this...

Since I have met you
I became able to always laugh more than in the past
I memorised it so that I wasn't disliked
I also cooked and did the laundry for you
Therefore make me stay by your side
Because I'm trying my best

I love you.
I love you like this
Will you become aware of it?
Of my unrequited love...

Don't go, be here
I want to be at your side
With a little it's fine, With a little it's fine
Look at me
In anxiety, in anxiety...
My chest contracts painfully
Still wonder whether I'm really useless...

I want to hear your voice, I want to hear it
I'm staring at the phone that doesn't ring
I want to meet you, I can't meet you, I'm waiting
Where should I go so that I can meet you?

I guess that this must be able to do anything for you

I am always encouraged by your gentle smile...

It's fine with only a little
You will make me one of your memories
Then Certainly, because I will be forgotten
I won't say goodbye I seem to start crying, therefore
I will laugh in the end I say thank you... bye bye
My unrequited love...
