Lovers dream, lovers scream
And hearts may break
Hearts will make up and
Love cries out, love decides to forgive
Live another day
Love lives another day
Love lives another day
Love lives another day

Love of my life, she walks through that door
Reaches out to me with a smile that never seems to end
As she crosses that floor
Her cadence, her rhythm so elegant, confident
We hold each other as the music holds us
Like two rivers flowing to the point where they become one
In motion moving in time, two are as one
Their dancing is life

And rhyme and rhythm
Demanding, forgiving
Breaking and mending
Ridged and bending
And go on and on
On and on, on and on we go
With the ebb and the flow and we shake
To the give and the take, and we rattle around
To the noises we make, we live and we learn from mistakes we've made

We go on and on, on and on
On and on, on and on
Go on and on, on and on
On and on as lovers dream
Lovers scream, and hearts may break
Hearts will make up and love cries out
Love decides to forgive
Live another day
Love lives another day
Love lives another day
Love lives another day

Love lives another day
Love lives another day

I throw down that gauntlet
You make demands as
We come to terms and we both learn to understand
Each other just a little bit more
The greater the lesser, the lesser becomes more
It's an imperfect love but we let it evolve
There's greater things here than pride and passion
The gift of discernment, just common sense
Everyday wisdom, lovers as they dance

To rhyme and rhythm

We go on and on, on and on
On and on, on and on
Love lives another day

Oh, you've gotta learn how to live
You've gotta learn how to respect and to give You've gotta hold each other, kiss each other
Learn how to forgive one another
