Run for the cover of a purely loving heart
Run for the cover of a purely loving heart

But you don't know where to find her
Truth be known you're blind to her loving eyes
She's looking back at you, take you as you stand
And all you have to do is look back too
And take her by the hand
You better know her when you see her
I'm sure you'll know it from the moment it starts
I'm sure you'll recognize it clearly
So clearly, purely loving heart
Yea, yea, yea

Run for the cover of a purely loving heart

Well I know you've had your share of hard times
And I know that you're not all alone
Well I know that you've been betrayed
And you know you've been played
You can't walk away from love now
Stand up and shake it off
You've got to get on with the business of living
It only happens through forgiveness
And you will find your way there clearly
So clearly, back to a purely loving heart
Yea, yea, yea

Run for the cover of a purely loving heart
Run for the cover of a purely loving heart

All of the love that you've shared with her
And honesty and truth and trust
You can't walk away from the best parts
Of who you are now in disgust
Stop! Turn around look inside
We've all cried now it's your turn
To find your way back to a purely loving heart

Run for the cover of a purely loving heart
Run for the cover of a purely loving heart

Well you can't begin to know the depths of someone else's love
Until you know your own
And the thing you are searching for, yea
What you need to find is the man you used to be
So set your anger free and leave it all behind
And take a long walk into tomorrow
And find your peace it'll dissipate your sorrow
And you will find your way there clearly
So clearly, back to your purely loving heart
Yea, yea, yea

Run for the cover of a purely loving heart
Run for the cover of a purely loving heart
Run for the cover of a purely loving heart
