"She's My Love"

Someone wants her body,
And someone wants her mind,
And someone tells the stories,
'cos someone wants her time

And someone wants her bedroom,
And someone wants her smile,
And someone wants to love her
To love her for a while

She's my love
I left her alone behind the door
She's my love
She'll never be loved by anyone anymore
She's my love
She'll never be loved by anyone
And someone wants to take her,
And someone wants her dreams,
And someone wants to play games,
And she knows what it means

She's my love
I left her alone behind the door
She's my love
She'll never be loved by anyone anymore
She's my love
She'll never be loved by anyone

She's my love..
