I saw the sunrise deep in hell
I saw heaven in the cell
I saw the touch, i saw the smell, well, well

I saw the neverending sea
I saw the mountains of liberty
I didn't see you and i did not see me

But i'm still looking for someone
Someone that's larger than life
Something that's sharp
Sharp as the knife

I saw the sunrise deep in hell
And it grows and it grows
First signals of love
I say well, i say well
I saw the sunrise deep in hell

I saw the wild, wild beasts
I saw them run away or run at least
I saw the lovers and i saw the priest

But i'm still looking for someone
Someone that's larger than life
Something that's sharp
Sharp as the knife

I saw the sunrise deep in hell
And it grows and it grows
First signals of love
I say well, i say well
I saw the sunrise deep in hell

I saw the sunrise deep in hell
And it shines and it shines
First signals of love
I say well, i say well
I saw the sunrise deep in hell

I saw the sunrise deep in hell
And it grows and it grows

First signals of love
I say well, i say well, i say well
I saw the sunrise
