it started in April
our love was away
the million dollar rock star easily took you in May you never stop running, no doubt that you're right grab all the cash you can before the black market turns white the world is so busy, there's no time to stop we all know the kitten who didn't want to give up.

my kitten, you're talking too loud about sales the world just keeps spinning on the back of two whales the drowning man holds his life in his hands ambitions and fat cats help to split rock'n'roll bands
