Are we strong enough to survive
When we awake from a timeless sleep
We may have wasted years but we won't walk alone
With the secrets that we keep

We're learning from the days passing by
Until the time we take care
We promise no one gets hurt
They know too soon we will be there

Now
Now that we're falling
The day has come to bare
When darkness is no more
There'll be no remorse

It's
Where your actions
Will lead you to live
Where your actions
Will lead you to survive
Yeah, to survive

Only Heaven knows it's much too late
No more lies, no alibis
We're tangled in a world
A world of light with darkness inside

Whatever we once knew
Fell apart in our hands
Whatever we now do, whatever we now do
A new life begins

But still we're falling
Another day has come
The darkness is no more
While all noises are gone

It's
Where your actions
Will lead you to live
Where your actions

Will lead you to survive
Where your actions
Will lead you to live
Where your actions
Will lead you to survive
Where your actions

Where your actions
Will lead you to live
Where your actions
Will lead you to survive
Where your actions
Will lead you to live
Where your actions
Will lead you to survive
