Let's not waste a minute of each other
Let's get to the tenderness at hand
Slip into something soft and then
Come slip into my arms, again
Strip away your conscience
And take off your wedding band

Let's take what this moment has to offer
Let's feel every need we feel inside
Reach out and turn the lights down low
And reach me every way you know
Let's make sure before you leave
That we're both satisfied

It's a long time between this time
And the next time
It seems more like a million years
Instead of just one week
It's a long time between this time
And the next time
So lets make this the best time
Till the next time that we meet...
