(John Gostick - Richard Moreland)

I'll bet you it's raining in Dallas and I'll bet that she's all alone
'Cause she never called me from Dallas only when there's something wrong Then she'll tell me the things she remembers and it's funny how time sure does fly I'll bet you it's raining in Dallas cause I feel a tear in her eye.

Sometimes she's lonely that's when she cries
Sometimes she's sorry that she said goodbye Lord, she's had too much to remember and her memories are too much to hide I'll bet you it's raining in Dallas cause I feel there's tears in her eyes.

Oh, I'll bet you it's raining in Dallas cause I feel there's tears in her eyes...
