Last night I layed down with someone I love
But it seems like ages ago
'Cause this morning you whispered you're leaving me
Now you're someone I don't know.

There's a stranger in our house tonight
It's hard to believe I don't know you
I hate to turn out the light
With a stranger in our house tonight.

--- Instrumental ---

I thought we were happy in each others arms
But things aren't always like they seem
It goes to show how little I know
It must have been something I dreamed.

There's a stranger in our house tonight
It hard to believe I don't know you
I hate to turn out the light
With a stranger in our house tonight...
