(Jack Clement - Mitt Addington)

This heart of mine belongs to you take care of it be kind
For I must go where you may lead the eyes of love are blind
I may not see the things that I should see the danger there might be in store
And I may do just what I shouldn't do Because I'm looking through the eyes of love Eyes of love.

It is true I know that eyes of love might dim the view for me
But eyes of love can see so much that other eyes don't see
A bluer sky the sparkle in your eyes all make me realize I'm yours
I've seen with you a world of dreams come true
Because I'm looking through the eyes of love
Don't let me die...
