Prayer For Friendship

With every beat of my heart I will knock at your heart's door, praying you will open it for me again

With every light breeze of the wind whirling around you, I will whisper this prayer for your friendship and forgiveness

With your every step on the ocean sand, my tears I've cried for friendship will wash your feet

With every touch of the tender golden dawn upon your face the Birds of Paradise will sing your song for your forgiveness

With every Silver Moon calming the day down, the stars of all the galaxies in the Universe will pray with me for your forgiveness until the end of time!
