"Smoke And Mirrors"

Like a fly on the wall
Sometimes you think that you've seen it all
But then you wake up and you find yourself
Still learning to crawl

I used to see you in a different view
But now you know that
I'm looking through you
I woke up in a masquerade
And I don't know what you became

You're not the person that you used to be
It's smoking mirrors that's fooling me
This whole thing became one giant
Nightmare of a mystery to me

Cause I don't know you anymore
And maybe I never did before
I had to open up these can of worms
Spill it out now oh word for word
I used to have a way to put a face to the name
But now I don't know what you became

Maybe my eyes are being deceived
And I'm not sure what I should believe
I used to hang out with a person I knew
But now I can't figure out the truth

You're not the person that you used to be
It's smoking and mirrors that's fooling me
This whole thing become a giant nightmare
Of a mystery to me

I'm not sure who you became
And I can't put a face to the name
