Trouble got a hold of me
Don't you see
It's found it's home its set in stone
It's lit up on the marquee
Some how things haven't always been like this
My demons came back
This time I couldn't resist

So now the monsters of madness have prevailed
I try to stay clean with the hope and hell that failed
So now the consequences are gonna fall
Like a ton of bricks and the writing's on the wall

Taking the turn for the worse that's fure sure
Sinking further than I've ever sunk before
Knowing deep down that I'll never find the cure
Taking the turn
My turn for the worse
My turn for the worse
