Oh oh oh

In this life we go through lots of hard times
And we say, "Who knows what the day will bring"
We learn to survive 'cause that's the only way

It's kinda nice to talk about the good times
Like the feelin' we all know when the summer comes That's the reason we all know we are as one

Yesterday is over let's live for today
Good mornin' to the blue skies, goodbye to the grey
So come into the sunshine, step out of the rain
A new day is arising at daybreak

Everybody together, people come into our world
People, everybody together
People come into our world

I think it's time to have a celebration
It is time to find another way
To keep movin' on toward a better day, yeah

Yesterday is over let's live for today
Good mornin' to the blue skies, goodbye to the grey
So come into the sunshine, step out of the rain
A new way is arising at daybreak

People, everybody together, people come into the world
People, everybody together, people come into our
Our world, our world, people come into our world

At daybreak we can live, we can love
Come on people, we can get it on
We can live together, let's come together
We can live together, let's come together

We can live together, let's come together
Together at daybreak
Come together
We can live together, let's come together

Together at daybreak
Come together

We can live together, let's come together
Together at daybreak
Come together
We can live together, let's come together
Together at daybreak
Come together
