Psalm 103/Jeremiah 31:34

Can you hear me broken hearted

All you prisoners of your past

Come and find your freedom at last

There is mercy for the memories

That hold you in your pain

Come and stand in the cleansing

Of forgiving rain

Chorus

For as far as the eastern sky is to the west

And as deep as the ocean's deepest depths

Your sin has been carried by a God who forgives and forgets

Come find mercy for the memories and rest

All you hiding in the shadows

Of innocence you've lost

Come and find your healing

In the shadow of the cross

Chorus
