And I dream in black and white and red

And I dream in black and white and red

The last time I saw you, your head was on a spike, still screaming her name

Still cursing the day that I was born

Yet nothing has changed

Or do I still ask you for help?

No. Then stop asking me for forgiveness,

Stop asking, for forgiveness

Stop asking, for forgiveness

Stop asking, for forgiveness

Stop asking, for forgiveness

Because I cannot bleed until my dreams come true

I cannot bleed until my dreams come true

I cannot bleed until my dreams come true.
