We control the minds of the weak
I'll be the one who decides when you speak
If your cable went out you would lose your fucking mind
If you lost all power you would end your fucking life x2

Dependency is commonplace.
Easy eradication of the human race
Technology has an iron grip
We are swimming against the tide in the sea of shit

We are the tools of our tools
We must liberate ourselves from the shackles of foes
We made the machine
We made the end
The world wide web is no longer your friend

Dependency is commonplace.
Easy eradication of the human race
Technology has an iron grip
We are swimming against the tide in the sea of shit

Born to kill
Live to die
No one mourns
We won't survive
Never learn
Never die
