I ride the time, it unfolds a new day,
Another time, this world would fade away
To find true love, is like no other joy,
Our choice is here
Be happy for today, be happy for today
The passage won, could maim a loser's fate,
The bombs will run, I wish love could have it's day
A heart that soars, above the worldly haze,
Has found the cure
Be happy for today, be happy for today
Be happy for today, be happy for today
Soldier of fortune, runs away,
To take up arms against his brother
When does this ever stop?
We're still in the playground
Except the toys are hurting us
You're waiting for it now
You're waiting for it now
Here it comes
So far to go, but we keep pushing on
So far to go, but we keep moving on
So far, keep moving on...
