Saw a man out on the street today, his whole life in a box.

Someone must'a loved him once, right now, he just feels lost.

I don't know where he's headed, Can't tell where he's been.

God, I wish that I could say to him, you can start your life again.

Chorus: If you can find somebody
You can love more than you,
You gotta hold on, hang on, whatever you do.
And when it feels like you've got nothin',
And your world is all but stopped,
You still have everything, when love is all you've got.

A family prayin' beneath a bridge, I don't know how they do it.
Their shoes and clothes were all but gone,
But their faith'll get 'em through it.
Oh, you know there's somethin' special, about a mother and a father,
Who can teach their kids to love, when others might not bother.

Chorus: So when you find somebody
You can love more than you.
When the rain stops raining and the sun shines through.
And when it feels like you've got nothing
And your world is all but stopped,
You'll still have everything, when love is all you've got.

(Instrumental)

Maybe there's a miracle, your name's been written on,
Maybe it's been standin' right beside you all along.

So when you find somebody (find somebody)
You can love more than you. (more than you)
You gotta hold on, (hold on) hang on, (hang on) whatever you do.

And when it feels like you've got nothin'
And your world is all but stopped,
You still have everything. You still have everything...
When Love is all you've got.
