Father you love flows though your kingdom like a mighty river
You children come down to Your banks to drink the living water

Your holiness abounds Come Lord of all surround us Reveal your endless power and Your glory Let your spirit rise until your truth is overflowing in this land

If the river wants to run who's gonna stop it now Who's gonna keep those flood gates from bending We'll take this broken land and turn it into a temple Light it with your fire that is unending

So take this broken man and turn him into a temple Light him with your fire that is unending
