Like the weather your heart changes with each season
Spring time, summer, fall and winter too
Though I know I'll never understand the reason
I'll still wonder why each season changes you.

It was spring time when you said that you were sorry
And our love grew warmer with the summer sun
And in the fall I seem to see your love was changing
Broke my heart to see what the weather time had done.

--- Instrumental ---

Like the weather your heart changes with each season
Spring time, summer, fall and winter too
Though I know I'll never understand the reason
I'll still wonder why each season changes you...
