I don't need the help of the red wine in the glass to ease my mind
I found out a way to forget the way you left me here behind
I drink up a mem'ry and it takes me back to places that I've been
I just think about you and I'm high on the thought of you again.

I can see me anytime I want to in my favorite chair at home
I played like a pony when the children needed one to ride on
With each memory I drink it makes me feel so good and warm within
I just think about you and I'm high on the thought of you
again.

--- Instrumental ---

We lived in the world that was ours till he came between you and me
So I'll keep drinkin' memories 'cause the past is for I live in
I just think about you and I'm high on the thought of you
again.

again...
